1. ADDA	9:23			Since Dr. Kissinger did not sign a secrecy agreement, he was under no obligation to submit his manuscript (or notes) to the CIA for review. However, our Classification Review Division customarily reviews manuscripts and articles referred to us by other agencies, particularly DOD, where the author may feel that sensitive or classified intelligence information is involved. It is a voluntary, cooperative effort that works reasonably well in which the authors have generally been willing to accept the rationale for excising sensitive data not officially released by the Executive Branch to the public domain.

Dr. Kissinger's notes have been reviewed in the same manner as we would do for anyone else under the only authority we have which is Executive Order 12065, currently being revised. As pointed out in our response, it would be much better if Dr. Kissinger could either submit the full chapter of his manuscript or additional identifying data as to the source of his notes so we could be more certain in our judgment.
